

The Clear Choice For Waterworks Projects

When it comes to waterworks, Ames Fire and Waterworks has you covered. Since 1910, Ames has manufactured superior valves & fittings for the waterworks market and has developed a reputation of excellence in the industry. Ames is a leading manufacturer of fabricated stainless steel products, including backflow prevention assemblies, automatic control valves and strainers. Ames backflow assemblies are available with the widest range of end connection options in the industry and our automatic control valves are available in a variety of configurations to meet your application needs.

Excellence Matters, Specify It!

For more information, call us at 916-928-0123
or visit our web site at www.amesfirewater.com.
If excellence matters to you, then specify Ames!

